03rd March 2026

Message from the Executive Director, Natural Gas Society

The global energy sector continues to navigate structural transitions, geopolitical shifts, and technological change. In this evolving landscape, natural gas and allied industries remain central to ensuring energy security, affordability, and sustainability.

In India, the sector is at a critical growth stage. As noted in the Oil & Gas Connect Expo 2026 brochure, natural gas demand is projected to nearly double to around 115 BCM by 2030 and could reach 170 BCM by 2050. Growth in city gas distribution, industrial consumption, and fertilizer demand, along with the expansion of industrial gases, underscores the expanding role of gas in India's development trajectory.

In this context, the Oil & Gas Connect Expo 2026, to be held on 12–14 March 2026 at the India Expo Centre, Greater Noida (Delhi NCR), provides a timely platform. With 400+ exhibitors and 15,000+ visitors, the Expo will showcase technologies and services across the value chain from upstream and LNG to CNG, hydrogen, pipelines, automation, and safety systems. The diverse exhibitor base reflects the sector's integrated and innovation-driven character.

The Government of India's progressive policy framework, including 100% FDI in several segments, further strengthens the industry's growth outlook. Platforms like this Expo play an essential role in connecting policy, technology, and market opportunities.

I on behalf of the Natural Gas Society (NGS) and on my own behalf would like to commend the organizers for creating a comprehensive industry interface that fosters collaboration, knowledge exchange, and sustainable progress. I extend my best wishes for a successful and impactful Oil & Gas Connect Expo 2026.
